What is Dia de los Muertos?

The Day of the Dead is celebrated as an opportunity for friends and family of deceased loved ones to honor their memory through altars and offerings that help the deceased in their recovery trip.

Elements of an Altar

Earth

Earth is represented by the crops — souls are fed by the aroma of the harvest; quails and birds are fed by scratch and seed in the altar.

Wind

Wind is represented by a moving object, such as papel picado, as it moves swiftly like the wind.

Water

Water is placed within a container for the souls to quench their thirst after their long journey.

Fire

Fire is represented by wax candles. Each lit candle represents a soul and an extra one is placed for a forgotten soul.

Butterflies

Various regions in Mexico believe that the deceased pass to the eternal life and their souls would return to earth as a butterfly to visit their loved ones.

Cempazúchitl

Cempazúchitl (Aztec Marigolds) is used to create a path towards the altar from the entrance of a home as a guide.

Mat/Rug

A mat or rug is placed at the foot of the altar for the soul to rest after their long journey home.

Papel Picado

Papel picado is special paper cut in shape of butterflies and symbolic iconography. It represents the wind and the fragility of life.

Salt

Salt represents purification — it acts to cleanse and purify their souls during the following year.

Copal/Incense

Incense is burned to guide souls via its aroma.

Adults can get COVID-19 vaccines at no cost to them!

The distribution of COVID-19 vaccines changed in September 2023 as these products moved the commercial market.

COVID-19 vaccines are still available at no cost to most people living in the U.S. through their private health insurance, Medicare, and Medicaid plans. However, there are 25-30 million adults without health insurance and additional adults whose insurance does not offer COVID-19 vaccines at no cost to them.
